This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
Review Date: 2008

2. The majority of the troops wear Soviet type uniforms and are equipped with Soviet arms.
3. The following units of the Rumanian Army are also deployed at Constanța:
- Command Headquarters and one battalion of Marines Regiment
  - Command Headquarters and two units of 12 Coastal Artillery Regiment of the Marine Corps. These units are equipped with 152 mm. guns.
  - One battalion of Marine Engineer Regiment
4. During the last three months the garrison at Cernavoda has been considerably strengthened by the arrival of anti-aircraft batteries. This measure was taken because of the vital importance of the bridge crossing the Danube in the neighborhood of Cernavoda and of the pipe line running parallel to the bridge. The Cernavoda garrison consists of:
- One Soviet motorized Infantry battalion, whose regimental command headquarters are at Constanța. The troops are quartered at the "General Dragalina" barracks.
  - A Rumanian anti-aircraft artillery regiment, equipped with motorized heavy guns. The troops are quartered in sheds and requisitioned buildings located on the outskirts of the town, at the foot of the hills rising on the opposite bank of the Danube. The regiment is equipped with 35 or 40 guns of 88 and 90 mm. caliber, telemeters, target shooting installations, et cetera and about 120 motor vehicles. Its strength is about 2,000 men.

- c. One battalion of the engineer regiment of the Marine Corps, whose regimental command headquarters are at Galați. Another battalion of this regiment is deployed at Braila. The troops of the battalion stationed at Cernavoda are quartered in a building located near the bridge, next to a cement factory.
- 5. The arrival of larger quantities of ammunition is reported at the Hinog munitions dump. This dump is located about three kilometers from Cernavoda and about 250 meters from the bank of the Danube. Two platoons of the battalion of the Marine Engineer Corps are in charge of guarding this dump.
